THE NEW VOLUME

Beginning with this first issue of the fifth volume of the Current list, it will be noted that the numbers in the perpendicular column in the center of each page have been replaced by letters of the alphabet. This change will insure that rarely more than two titles instead of an average of four, will fall within the space corresponding to a given column and position designation. For the benefit of those who may not be familiar with this system of locating the papers referred to in the index, it may be said that a number such as 503d shows that the subject so designated is to be found in the title recorded in column 503 at the position corresponding to the letter "d" of the spaces from top to bottom of each page.

This use of letters instead of figures also makes it unnecessary to separate by a decimal point the part of the designation corresponding to the column number from that showing the position on the page. This in the aggregate should result in a considerable saving of space. It is hoped that this innovation will facilitate the use of the indexes made for future volumes of the Current List. It is expected that the index to Volume 3 (July-December 1942) will be completed within a short time.

A number of favorable comments have been received on the brief book notices which are now being given on the inside front cover of many issues of the Current List. They will be continued at such times as there are not items of special interest to be presented. In this connection, suggestions of suitable subjects will be gratefully received and contributions of interesting items from our Friends and members of the Medical Library Association will always be welcome.

During the past six months, a special effort to bring the Current List to the attention of those who might be expected to find it of value, has been made. Towards this end, sample copies and a descriptive circular have been sent to a list of some two thousand persons selected from those who have contributed to medical treatises, textbooks, symposia, and various reviews and digests of the literature of medicine. It is hoped that those who are finding the Current List helpful will continue to aid us in bringing it to the attention of others who may be able to use it to advantage.

A.S.
